What they say in an advertisement is to be relied upon and the customers know what to expect when they visit the store. They cannot be out in dry goods, dress goods and trimmings. Before buying visit the Mower Co's.

Mimnaugh's Struck It Right.

James A. Mimnaugh has just returned from the Northern markets and is tickled almost to death at the bargains he secured. Everything was just on the eve of a rise and he made his purchases before the rise was on—so he is on the safe side. The sidewalk before his place of business is stocked with boxes every day—the new goods already coming in. He says he will have the largest stock ever brought here and proposes to put the prices within the reach of all. Just visit his store in all that he asks—the prices, and goods will do the rest. Mimnaugh's ad takes the fourth of a page.

Mimnaugh's goods are all the rage.

Fabio Roman Thursday Night.

Alden Benedict's "Fabio Roman" which will be presented at the opera house next Thursday night is a play with a strong and stirring interest in it. Those who have read the book "The Vendetta" will easily remember the pretext of the story. A deceived husband is buried alive, but escapes from the tomb, and returns in disguise to torture the unfaithful wife, killing her at the moment he makes himself known. The novel furnishes intense scenes which are ably interpreted by a strong company, the principal members being especially engaged for the characters assigned them. A special feature of the performance will be the introduction by Miss Ollie Cooke of her celebrated dances.

No Argument is Needed.

To convince anyone who has once tried in of the merit of our "Clifton" brand of flour.

The flour speaks for itself. It tells its own story of absolute purity and careful milling. It speaks in the eloquent language of light, white loaves and biscuits, delicious pastry and tempting cakes. It speaks with such conviction that it brings the user back for more and it always tells the same satisfactory story. Why not learn this story of pure flour by trying "Clifton"? Ask your grocer for it.

If you want a cheaper flour buy our "White Pawn" (half patent) or spotless (Straight). They are just as pure, though not so white as "Clifton". Every sack of our flour bears the Anti-Adulteration League's registered drado mark.

For sale by Palmetto Grocery Co and E. R. Hipp in Newberry, and J. D. Stokes at Whitmire.

BRANSFORD MILLS,

Miss Pearl Shealy, of Little Mountain has been on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Allen Counts.

Mr. Walter Rhinehart, of Saluda, is making a forced visit here.

Saluda is up. How nice it would be to have a good bridge.

It looks as if a railroad to Saluda is a long way off.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Thomas Wells has a Bad Fall from a Building in Columbia—Not Seriously Hurt.

About noon yesterday one of the large plate glass windows in VanMetre's store was shattered by falling bricks. J. F. Green and Thomas Wells, two white workmen, were at work on a scaffold which surrounds the new Farmers and Mechanics bank. Through some cause three or four feet of the cornice which runs around the top of the building was dislodged and fell striking the scaffolding and breaking it. Green saved himself from the fall by clinging to the side of the building, but Wells was thrown to the ground, falling on the litter of bricks and scaffolding. He got up and walked over to McGregor's drug store where he was examined and found to be slightly bruised and cut, but otherwise uninjured.

The falling brick completely shattered the large window which it will be remembered was cracked some months ago in very much the same manner. The upper panel of this window was destroyed and another large pane at the entrance doors was cracked throughout its length. The furniture in the window was badly bruised.

The large pane on the side, as was stated, had been cracked before and Mr. VanMetre has a new one ready to put in. The other two glasses are insured, their aggregate value being about $175.—The State, 8th.

Married.

The following marriage notices were left on our desk several weeks ago and got misplaced among some other papers, which is the cause of the delay in publication. Rev. Boyd was kind enough to furnish them promptly after the marriages were solemnized:

By Rev. D. P. Boyd, Feb. 20th, 1902, at the residence of Mr. Benjamin Holt, Mr. Samuel J. Sheely and Miss Fannie E. Holt. All of this county.

By Rev. D. P. Boyd, Feb. 20th, 1902, at the residence of Mr. P. M. Hawkins, Mr. Leroy E. Summers and Miss Minnie T. Hawkins. All of this county.

Shack Dots.

The much dreaded month of March is here. We had some very windy days at first, but for the last two or three days it seemed as if summer had really come. The farmers are very busy now breaking up the soil.

We have a great deal of sickness in the neighborhood. Mrs. C. W. Buford has been very sick, but she is slowly recovering. Mr. Ed Bonds has had a severe attack of the grippe, but he is able to be up a short while at a time now. Little Cippie Spoon is also sick. We hope that all the sick will soon recover.

Mr. C. W. Buford is having his house repaired. Mr. J. Q. Phillips has the contract for the work.

Mrs. John Smith has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Sam Cleland, of the Bush River neighborhood.

Mrs. John Workman came over last week to see her brother, Mr. Ed Bonds.

The school house has not been completed yet, but it will be used this morning for the first time. School will go on for two months yet. Miss Linna Glenn is the teacher.

The members of Fairview have decided to get them an organ. They have bought one from the factory hill Baptist church. Rev. Mr. Burton of Newberry is pastor of Fairview, and everybody seems to like him very much. March 10, 1902.
